Clan Cameron Ceilidh

Beginning at 7:30PM Fort William's Milton Hotel once again hosted Clan Cameron, with a festive evening ceilidh.

The master-of-ceremonies and the accompanying fiddler & accordionist were wonderful, delighting clansfolk.

The Milton's reception hall was at capacity, with 250 Camerons in attendance - far more would have liked to have attended, but unfortunately seating was limited. Regardless, Camerons were entertained by a variety of performances - the depth of talent with the clan was proudly displayed.

The evening featured a variety of entertainment, including members from the Australian Branch of the Clan Cameron Assn., who delighted the audience with their spirited performance.

The Lochiel family also provided entertainment during the festive ceilidh. Donald Andrew Cameron displayed his talent for song and guitar work, with the clansfolk enjoying every moment.
